

Multiple Thread Wraps 14

This pattern also starts from a box wrap with center thread layout. It is a very nice, simple wrap that would be useful on a small diameter rod. The pattern does not expand beyond the initial box wrap layout so the pattern is small. When the wrap is left open there is a nice diamond shaped opening for the rod or underwrap to show through.

The blue center line wraps OUT both ways while the orange wraps IN only. There are eight wrapping steps in each pass (count the arrows). The pattern closes into the center quickly and makes a nice design that is quick and easy. This pattern is similar to the Reverse Diamond and Straight Cross seen in MTW 3, with the difference being the addition of the center line wrapping.
